Osiris Innovations Group Hires Jamie Georgeson
as Executive Vice President of Global Sales

AUBURN HILLS, Mich., (May 04, 2009) - Osiris Innovations Group (OIG), a provider of e-business, supply chain management and supplier enablement solutions, has hired Mr. Jamie Georgeson as executive vice president of global sales.

In this new position, Georgeson will oversee OIG's global sales initiative. More specifically, he will be tasked with managing the company's sales staff and partner organizations in servicing clients located in United States, Mexico and Europe, while actively growing OIG's presence worldwide.

"OIG has achieved significant growth since our inception in 2005. The addition of Jamie to our team reflects both a great accomplishment and our commitment to the future," said David Saroli, OIG chief executive officer. "Jamie brings a wealth of experience in global IT sales to OIG, which will be critical in achieving our aggressive goals including explosive growth in new markets around the world."

Georgeson joins OIG with over 26 years of experience in IT enterprise sales. Most recently, he served as executive vice president for Optier, Inc., the industry leader in monitoring and performance management. While at Optier, he assisted global Fortune 500 organizations improve the performance of their mission critical applications and overall enterprise. Prior to that, Georgeson was senior vice president of worldwide sales for Expand Networks, the market leader in bandwidth acceleration. He has also served in key management positions at Memco, Genix, LDI and Compuware.

Georgeson received a Bachelor of Arts degree in Economics from Ohio Wesleyan University.
